

02 June 2010

Hi All

Well we are now inside six months to L2L 2010. Don't forget that earlybird (discounted) entries close in four weeks on June 30th

Our new Event, L2L Lite is creating a lot of interest amongst first time multisporters – check it out if you are keen to get a piece of the action but the main event is too much of an ask for year one.

We have now created a forum linked to the website, or follow this link - <http://forum.laketolighthouse.co.nz/Default.aspx> Here you can ask questions, swap ideas, find team mates or gear etc.

We have now added a Vintage class for 50+ competitors after popular demand. Also new this year is a Corporate class for 2, 3 and 4 person teams. There will be no gender or age divisions for Corporates – it's all on for young and old so get the word around the smoko room !

Another reminder that we will be allowing (W1) Waka Ama craft as an alternative to kayaks on the paddling stages – could be a good choice if the Lake is choppy ?

Check out the website as we have updated the home page now, with new info and links.

Cheers and happy training
